

Brief History Of NSS

Ever since independence there has been growing awareness of the desirability of involving students in national service. The First Education Commission (1950) recommended the introduction of national service by students on a voluntary basis. Subsequently on the basis of suggestion made by the then Prime Minister Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, a committee was appointed under the chairmanship of Dr. C D Deshmukh to prepare a scheme for compulsory national service by students prior to their admission for degree courses. Prof. K. G Saiyidain who undertook a study of national service by youth in several countries, recommended that national service may be introduced on voluntary basis. A similar recommendation was made by the Education Commission appointed under the chairmanship of Dr. D. S. Kothari.

In April, 1967, the conference of state Education Ministers recommended that at the University stage, students could be permitted to join the National Cadet Corps which was already in existence on a voluntary basis and an alternative to this could be offered to them in the form of a new programme called National Service Scheme(NSS). Promising sportsmen, however, should be exempted from both and allowed to join another scheme called the National Sports Organisation (NSO), in view of the need to give priority to the development of sports and athletics.

The conference of Vice-Chancellors in September 1967 welcomed this recommendation and suggested that a special committee of Vice-Chancellors should be set up to examine this question in detail. The details were soon worked out and the planning Commission sanctioned an outlay of Rs. 5 Crore for developing the NSS during the 4th Five Year Plan as a pilot project in selected institutions and universities. In pursuance of these recommendations, the ministry of Education introduced the National Service Scheme during 1969-70. The choice of the timing of its introduction was remarkably auspicious as 1969 was the birth centenary year of Mahatma Gandhi, the father of nation to whom social service was almost a religion.

Logo of NSS

The NSS Symbol is emposed on NSS Badge. NSS volunteers wear it while undertaking various community programmes of community service. There are 24 wheels in the "Rath" of Sun Temple of Konark which portary the cycle of creation, preservation and release and signify the movement in life across time and space. The wheel signifies the progressive cycle of life. It stands for continuity as well as change and implies on the part of the NSS for continuous striving forward for social transformation and upliftment. Each wheel has eight bars, which represents eight pahars of a day. Hence the badge reminds the wearer to be in readiness for service of the nation round the clock, i.e. 24 hours or 8 pahars. The red colour in the badge indicates that the NSS volunteers are full of blood, i.e. lively active and spirited. The NAVY BLUE colour indicates the cosmos of which the NSS is a tiny part ready to contribute its share for the welfare of the mankind.

Motto of NSS

The motto or watchword of the National Service Scheme is 'NOT ME BUT YOU', this express the essence of democratic living and upholds the need for selfless service and appreciation of the other man's point of view and also to show consideration for fellow human beings.

It underlines that the welfare of an individual is ultimately dependent on the welfare of society as a whole. Therefore it should be the aim of the NSS to demonstrate this motto in its day-to-day programme
